

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS
ON DEPOSITORY SYSTEM

Disclaimer: These FAQs are not the interpretation of law but provide only a simplistic explanation of terms/concepts related to the depository system. All information has been updated till December 21, 2012. For full particulars of laws governing the depository system, please refer to the Acts/Regulations/Guidelines/Circulars appearing under the Legal Framework Section.

Understanding Depository System

1. What is a Depository?

A depository is an organization which holds securities (like shares, debentures, bonds, government securities, mutual fund units etc.) of investors in electronic form at the request of the investors through a registered depository participant. It also provides services related to transactions in securities.

2. What is the minimum net worth required for a depository?

The minimum net worth stipulated by SEBI for a depository is Rs.100 crore.

3. How is a depository similar to a bank?

It can be compared with a bank, which holds the funds for depositors. A bank - depository analogy is given in the following table:

BANK–DEPOSITORY - AN ANALOGY

BANK	DEPOSITORY
Holds funds in an account	Holds securities in an account
Transfers funds between accounts on the instruction of the account holder	Transfers securities between accounts on the instruction of the BO account holder
Facilitates transfer without having to handle money	Facilitates transfer of ownership without having to handle securities

Facilitates safekeeping of money	Facilitates safekeeping of securities
----------------------------------	---------------------------------------

4. How many Depositories are registered with SEBI?

At present two Depositories viz. National Securities Depository Limited (NSDL) and Central Depository Services (India) Limited (CDSL) are registered with SEBI.

Their addresses are:

National Securities Depository Limited (NSDL)

Trade World, A wing, 4th & 5th Floors, Kamala Mills Compound,

5. Who is a Depository Participant (DP)?

A DP is an agent of the depository through which it interfaces with the investor and provides depository services.

6. Who can be a DP?

Public financial institutions, scheduled commercial banks, foreign banks operating in India with the approval of the Reserve Bank of India, state financial corporations, custodians, stock-brokers, clearing corporations / clearing houses, NBFCs and registrar to an issue or share transfer agent complying with the requirements prescribed by SEBI can be registered as DP. Banking services can be availed through a bank branch whereas depository services can be availed through a DP.

7. Who is an Issuer?

"Issuer" means any entity such as a corporate / state or central government

Organizations issuing securities which can be held by depository in electronic form.

8. What is an ISIN?

ISIN (International Securities Identification Number) is a unique 12-digit alpha numeric identification number allotted for a security (e.g.- INE383C01018). Equity - fully paid up, equity - partly paid up, equity with differential voting / dividend rights issued by the same issuer will have different ISINs.

9. What is dematerialization (demat)?

Dematerialization is the process by which physical certificates of an investor are converted to an equivalent number of securities in electronic form.

10. What is Rematerialization (remat)?

Rematerialization is the process of converting securities held in electronic form in a demat account back in physical certificate form.

11. Who is a Registrar and Transfer Agent (RTA)?

An RTA is an agent of the issuer. RTA acts as an intermediary between the issuer and depository for providing services such as dematerialization, rematerialization, initial public offers (IPO) and corporate actions.

12. Who is registered owner of Securities?

When securities of a company are held in physical form by an investor, his/her name is recorded in the books of the company as a 'Registered Owner' of the securities. When physical shares are converted into electronic form, the depository becomes 'Registered owner' in the books of the company and investor's name is removed from books of the company.

13. Who is a Beneficial Owner (BO)?

All the benefits of the dematerialized shares are given to the actual investor since the depository holds the securities in a fiduciary capacity on behalf of the investors who have opened a demat account with the depository. Hence, the actual investor is the "Beneficial Owner" (BO) of the securities.

14. How many DPs are registered with SEBI?

As on December 21, 2012, a total of 866 DPs (289 NSDL, 577 CDSL) are registered with SEBI.

15. Is it compulsory for every investor to open a BO account to trade in the capital market?

As per the available statistics at BSE and NSE, 99.9% transactions take place in dematerialised mode only. Therefore, in view of the convenience of trading in dematerialised mode, it is advisable to have a beneficial owner (BO) account for trading at the exchanges.

However, to facilitate trading by small investors (maximum 500 shares, irrespective of their value) in physical mode the stock exchanges provide an additional trading window, which gives one time facility for small investors to sell physical shares which are in compulsory demat list. The buyer of these shares has to demat such shares before further selling.

16. How can I avail the services of a Depository?

A depository interfaces with the investors through its agents called DPs. If an investor wants to avail the services offered by the depository, the investor has to open an BO account with a DP.

17. What are the services provided by a Depository?

Following services are provided by a depository to the beneficial owners but of course, through a depository participant:

- Opening a demat account;
- Dematerialization, i.e. converting physical securities into electronic form,
- Rematerialization, i.e. converting electronic securities balances held in a BO account into physical form;
- Maintaining record of securities held by the beneficial owners in the electronic form;
- Settlement of trades by delivery or receipt of securities from / in BO accounts;
- Settlement of off-market transactions between BOs;
- Receiving electronic credit in respect of securities allotted by issuers under IPO or otherwise on behalf of demat account holders;
- Receiving non cash corporate benefits such as allotment of bonus and rights shares or any other non-cash corporate benefits given by the issuers in electronic form on behalf of its demat account holders,
- Pledging of dematerialized securities & facilitating loans against shares,
- Freezing of the demat account for debits, credits, or both

18. What are the benefits of availing depository services?

The benefits are enumerated below:

- A safe and convenient way to hold securities,
- Immediate transfer of securities,
- No stamp duty on transfer of securities,
- Elimination of risks associated with physical certificates such as bad delivery, fake securities, delays, thefts etc.

- Reduction in paperwork involved in transfer of securities,
- Reduction in transaction cost,
- No odd lot problem, even one share can be traded,
- Nomination facility,
- Change in address recorded with DP gets registered with all companies in which investor holds securities electronically eliminating the need to correspond with each of them separately,
- Transmission of securities is done by DP eliminating correspondence with companies,
- Automatic credit into demat account of shares, arising out of bonus/split/consolidation/merger etc.
- Holding investments in equity and debt instruments in a single account.

Account Opening

19. How can one open an account?

First an investor has to approach a DP and fill up an account opening form. The account opening form must be supported by copies of any one of the approved documents which serve as proof of identity and proof of address as specified by SEBI. Apart from these PAN card has to be shown in original at the time of account opening from April 01, 2006.

All applicants should carry original documents for verification by an authorized official of the DP, under his signature.

Investor has to sign an agreement with DP in a depository prescribed standard format, which gives details of rights and duties of investor and DP. DP should provide the investor with a copy of the agreement and schedule of charges for their future reference. The DP will open the account in the system and give a unique account number, which is also called BO ID (Beneficial Owner Identification number) and used for all future transactions.

20. Can a demat account be opened directly with depository?

No. A demat account cannot be opened directly with depository. It has to be opened only through a DP of depository.

21. Can a demat account be opened in the name of joint holder?

Yes. A demat account can be opened in a single name or in joint holders' name. There can be maximum three account holders i.e. one main holder and two joint holders.

22. Can a demat account be opened in the name of trust?

Yes. A demat account can be opened in the name of a trust if the trust is registered under the Public Trust Act 1860 / Societies Registration Act / B Bombay Public Trust Act / Public Trust Act in force in the state. If the trust is a private or unregistered trust then a demat account shall be opened in the name of trustees as an individual account. If the trust has more than three trustees, then they will have to decide in whose name the demat account will be opened.

23. Can a demat account be opened in the name of HUF?

No. In the case of HUF, shares can be held in the name of existing Karta on behalf of HUF.

24. Does a Non-Resident Indian (NRI) need any Reserve Bank of India (RBI) permission to open a demat account?

No permission is required from RBI to open a demat account. However, credits and debits from demat account may require general or specific permissions as the case may be, from designated authorized dealers.

25. Is nomination compulsory for a demat account?

SEBI has mandated that nomination should be recorded for a demat account held by individuals. If nomination is not to be given then the account holder(s) should give a written and signed declaration to the effect.

26. Can multiple accounts be opened by an investor?

Yes. An investor can open more than one account in the same name with the same DP and also with different DPs. For all the accounts, investor has to strictly comply with know your client (KYC) norms including proof of identity, proof of address requirements as stipulated by SEBI and also provide PAN number. The investor has to show the original PAN card at the time of opening of demat account.

27. Can an investor open a single account for securities owned in different ownership patterns such as securities owned individually and securities owned jointly with others?

No. Demat account must be opened in the same ownership pattern in which the securities are held in the physical form. e. g. if one share certificate is in the individual name and another certificate is jointly with somebody, two different accounts would have to be opened.

28. What is required to be done if one has physical certificates with the same combination of names, but the sequence of names is different i.e. some certificates with 'A' as first holder and 'B' as second holder and other set of certificates with 'B' as first holder and 'A' as the second holder?

In this case the investor may open only one account with 'A' & 'B' as the account holders and lodge the security certificates with different order of names for dematerialisation in the same account. An additional form called Transposition cum Demat form will have to be filled in. This would help you to effect change in the order of names as well as dematerialise the securities.

BO account charges

29. What are all charges an investor has to pay for opening and maintenance of a BO account?

SEBI has rationalised the cost structure for dematerialisation by removing account opening charges, transaction charges (for credit or buy transactions of securities), custody charges and account closing charges. Custody charges are now paid by the issuer companies. Broadly, investors are required to pay the charges towards,

- Dematerialisation and Rematerialisation of their securities
- Annual account maintenance charges
- Transactions fees (only for sell transactions)

The DP may revise the charges by giving 30 days' notice in advance.

Further, SEBI has also advised the DPs to submit to their Depository their tariff/charge structure every year latest by 30th April and changes made therein, along with the date of effect to enable the investors to have a comparative Analysis of the tariff/charge structure of various DPs. The information received by the depositories is put up on their websites.

30. Is Account Maintenance Charges (AMC) collected upfront by the DP s to be refunded in the event of closure of BO account?

Yes. In the event of closing of demat account or shifting of demat account from one DP to another, the AMC collected upfront on annual / half yearly basis by the DP, shall be refunded by the DP to the BO for the balance of the quarter/s. example 1, Annual AMC collected by BO, BO closes / shifts his account in the 1st quarter, he shall be refunded the amount of balance 3 qtrs i.e. 3/4th of the AMC collected. example 2, Likewise if a BO closes / shifts his account in 3rd qtr., he shall be refunded the amount of balance 1 qtr i.e. 1/4th of the AMC collected .

31. Whether all DP s are required to refund the AMC collected upfront for the balance quarters?

No. It will not be applicable to the DPs who collect quarterly / monthly AMC.

32. How will the beginning of year considered for the calculation of the AMC?

For the calculation of the AMC, year shall begin from the date of opening of the account in quarterly rests.

33. What would be the charges for account closure and securities transfer due to account closing?

SEBI has advised that from January 09, 2006, no charges shall be levied by a depository on DP and consequently, by a DP on a BO, when a BO transfers all the securities lying in his account to another branch of the same DP or to another DP of the same depository or another depository, provided the BO Account/s at transferee DP and at transferor DP are identical in all respects. In case the BO Account at transferor DP is a joint account, the BO account at transferee DP should also be a joint account in the same sequence of ownership.

All other transfer of securities consequent to closure of account, not fulfilling the above-stated criteria, would be treated like any other transaction and charged as per the schedule of charges agreed upon between the BO and the DP.

Operation of BO Account

34. What should be done if the address of the investor changes?

Investor should immediately inform his DP along with necessary documents, who in turn will update the records. This will obviate the need of informing different companies.

35. Does the investor have to keep any minimum balance of securities in his account?

No.

36. Is it necessary to have account with the same DP as broker has?

No. Investor can choose any DP as per his / her convenience or choice and carry on trading activity through broker of his / her choice, irrespective of the DP of broker.

37. Can an investor operate a joint account on either or survivor basis just like a bank account?

No. The demat account cannot be operated on either or survivor basis like the bank account.

38. Can someone else operate the account on behalf of the BO on the basis of a power of attorney (POA)?

Yes. If the BO authorizes any person to operate the account by executing a POA and submit it to the DP, that person can operate the account on behalf of the BO.

39. How can intimation of any transaction be given for POA operated accounts?

Subscription of SMS alerts for the depository accounts operated through POA is mandatory except in cases of accounts held by non-individual, foreign individuals & NRIs.

40. Is addition or deletion of names of BO account holders permitted after opening the account?

No. The names of the account holders of a BO account cannot be changed. If any change has to be effected by addition or deletion, a new account has to be opened in the desired holding pattern (names) and then transfer the securities to the newly opened account. The old account may be closed.

41. Is change in the names of BO accounts permitted after opening the account?

Yes. An individual BO may change his/ her name in the event of marriage, change in father's name or any other reasons by submitting the following documents:

Reasons for name change	Documents to be submitted
Marriage	Marriage certificate or copy of passport showing husband's name or publication of name change in official gazette
Change in father's name	Publication of name change in official gazette
Any other reasons	Publication of name change in official gazette

42. Can an investor close his demat account with one DP and transfer all securities to another account with another DP?

Yes. The investor can submit account closure request to his DP in the prescribed form. The DP will transfer all the securities lying in the account, as per the instruction, and close the demat account.

43. What if there are any discrepancies in the statement of holdings?

In case of any discrepancy in the statement of holdings, investor can contact his DP and in case of discrepancies in corporate benefits, one can approach the company / it's RTA. If the discrepancy is not resolved, the investor may approach concerned Depository (NSDL or CDSL).

44. Can an investor freeze his account(s)?

Investor can freeze his account and /or ISIN and/or specific number of securities under an ISIN for any given period of time as per applicable Regulations of SEBI and Bye Laws of the respective depository.

45. Why should an investor give his bank account details at the time of BO account opening?

Bank account details are necessary for the protection of interest of investors. When any cash or non-cash corporate benefits such as rights or bonus or dividend is announced for a particular scrip, depositories provide to the concerned issuer /it's RTA, the details of the investors, their electronic holdings as on record / book closure date for reckoning the entitlement of corporate benefit.

The disbursement of cash benefits such as dividend is credited directly by the Issuer/it's RTA to the beneficiary owner through the ECS (Electronic Clearing Service wherever available) facility or by issuing warrants on which bank account details are printed for places where ECS facility is not available. The bank account number is mentioned on the dividend and warrant to avoid any fraudulent misuse. The bank account details will be those which are mentioned in account opening form or modified details that had been intimated subsequently by the investor to the DP.

46. Can an investor change the details of his bank account?

Yes. However, the investor must inform the DP regarding change in the bank account and corresponding change in MICR / IFSC code while updating their bank account details with DP. In the depository system monetary benefits on the security balances are paid as per the bank account details provided by the investor at the time of account opening. the investor must ensure that any subsequent changes in bank account details are informed to the DP.

Dematerialization

47. Is dematerialization of securities compulsory:

According to the Depositories Act, 1996, an investor has the option to hold securities either in physical or electronic form. Part of holding can be in physical form and part in demat form. However, SEBI has notified that settlement of market trades in listed securities should take place only in the demat mode.

48. What type of instruments are available for demat at Depository:

All types of equity/ debt instruments viz. equity shares, preference Shares, partly paid shares, bonds, debentures, commercial papers, certificates of deposit, government securities (G-SEC) etc. irrespective of whether these instruments are listed / unlisted / privately placed can be dematerialized with depository, if they have been admitted with the depository.

49. Is there any charge for dematerialization of physical certificates?

Depository does not levy any charge for dematerialization of securities. However, DP s may collect dematerialization charges towards postage / courier charges etc. as per their tariff sheet.

50. How can one convert physical holding into electronic holding i.e. how can one dematerialise securities?

In order to dematerialise physical securities one has to fill in a DRF (Demat Request Form) which is available with the DP and submit the same along with physical certificates that are to be dematerialised. Separate DRF has to be filled for each ISIN. The complete process of dematerialisation is outlined below:

- Surrender certificates for dematerialisation to your DP.
- DP intimates to the Depository regarding the request through the system.
- DP submits the certificates to the registrar of the Issuer Company.
- Registrar confirms the dematerialisation request from depository.
- After dematerialising the certificates, Registrar updates accounts and informs depository regarding completion of dematerialisation.
- Depository updates its accounts and informs the DP.
- DP updates the demat account of the investor.

51. Can odd lot shares be dematerialised?

Yes, odd lot share certificates can also be dematerialised.

52. Whether different securities issued by the same issuer will have same ISIN?

No, different securities issued by the same issuer will have different ISIN code.

53. Do dematerialised shares have distinctive numbers?

Dematerialised shares do not have any distinctive numbers. These shares are fungible, which means that all the holdings of a particular security will be identical and interchangeable.

54. Can electronic holdings be converted back into physical certificates:

Yes. The process is called rematerialisation. If one wishes to get back his securities in the physical form he has to fill in the RRF (Remat Request Form) and request his DP for rematerialisation of the balances in his securities account. The process of rematerialisation is outlined below:

- Make a request for rematerialisation.
- Depository participant intimates depository regarding the request through the system.
- Depository confirms rematerialisation request to the registrar.
- Registrar updates accounts and prints certificates.
- Depository updates accounts and downloads details to depository participant.
- Registrar dispatches certificates to investor.

Trading / Settlement

55. What is the procedure for selling dematerialised securities?

The procedure for buying and selling dematerialised securities is similar to the procedure for buying and selling physical securities. The difference lies in the process of delivery (in case of sale) and receipt (in case of purchase) of securities.

In case of purchase,-

- The broker will receive the securities in his account on the payout day.
- The broker will give instruction to its DP to debit his account and credit BO's account.
- BO will give 'Receipt Instruction' to DP for receiving credit by filling appropriate form. However BO can give standing instruction for credit to his account that will obviate the need of giving Receipt Instruction every time.

In case of sale,-

BO will give delivery instruction through Delivery Instruction Slip (DIS) to DP to debit his account and credit the broker's account. Such instruction should reach the DP's office at least 24 hours before the pay-in, failing which, DP will accept the instruction only at the BO's risk.

56. What Standing Instruction is given in the account opening form?

In a bank account, credit to the account is given only when a pay in slip is submitted together with cash/cheque. Similarly, in a depository account Receipt in form has to be submitted to receive securities in the account. However, for the convenience of BOs, facility of standing instruction is given. If you say yes for standing instruction, you need not submit Receipt In slip every time you buy securities. If you are particular that securities can be credited to your account only with your consent, then do not say yes [or tick] to standing instruction in the application form.

57. What is Delivery Instruction Slip (DIS)? What precautions do one need to observe with respect to Delivery Instruction Slips?

To give the delivery one has to fill a form called Delivery Instruction Slip (DIS). DIS may be compared to cheque book of a bank account. The following precautions are to be taken in respect of DIS:-

- Ensure and insist with DP to issue DIS book. Submit DIS instruction request slip (contained in previous booklet) duly complete in all respects to the DP.
- Ensure that DIS numbers are pre-printed and DP takes acknowledgment for the DIS booklet issued to investor.
- Ensure that your account number [client id] is pre-stamped.
- If the account is a joint account, all the joint holders have to sign the instruction slips. Instruction cannot be executed if all joint holders have not signed.
- Avoid using loose slips.
- Do not leave signed blank DIS with anyone viz., broker/sub-broker, DPs or any other person/entity.
- Keep the DIS book under lock and key when not in use.
- If only one entry is made in the DIS book, strike out remaining space to prevent misuse by any one.
- BO should personally fill in target account id and all details in the DIS.
- If the DIS booklet is lost / stolen / not traceable, the same must be intimated to the DP immediately in writing. On receipt of such intimation, the DP will cancel the unused DIS of the said booklet.

58. Is it possible to give delivery instructions to the DP over Internet and if yes, how?

Yes. Both NSDL and CDSL have launched this facility for delivering instructions to your DP over Internet, called SPEED-e and EASI respectively. The facility can be used by all registered BOs after paying the applicable charges.

59. Is it possible to get securities allotted in public offering directly in the electronic form?

Yes, it is possible to get securities allotted to in Public Offerings directly in the electronic form. In the public issue application form, there is a provision to indicate the manner in which an investor wants the securities to be allotted. He has to mention the BO ID, name and DP ID on the application form. Any allotment made will be credited into the BO account.

Pledging

60. Can one pledge the dematerialised securities?

Yes. Pledging dematerialised securities is easier and more advantageous as compared to pledging physical securities.

61. What should one do to pledge electronic securities?

The procedure to pledge electronic securities is as follows,

- Both BOs, investor (pledgor) and the lender (pledgee) must have BO account with the same depository,
- Pledgor will have to instruct DP to create pledge in prescribed standard form (Pledge Request Form) with the details of the securities,
- The lender (pledgee) has to confirm the request through his /her DP,
- Once this is done, securities are pledged.
- All financial transactions between the pledgor and the pledgee are handled as per usual practice outside the depository system.

62. What is the procedure for closure of pledge after repayment of loan?

After the repayment of loan, pledgor can request for a closure of pledge by instructing the DP in a prescribed format. The pledgee on receiving the repayment will instruct his DP accordingly for the closure of the pledge.

63. Can pledgor (investor) change the securities offered in a pledge?

Yes, if the pledgee (lender) agrees, pledgor (investor) may change the securities offered in a pledge.

64. Who will receive the corporate benefits on the pledged securities?

The securities pledged are only blocked in the account of pledgor (investor) in favour of the pledgee (lender). The pledgor would continue to receive all the corporate benefits.

Transaction Statement

65. How does one know that the DP has updated the account after each transaction?

The DP provides a Transaction Statement periodically, which gives details of current balances and various transactions made through the depository account. If desired, DP may provide the Transaction Statement at intervals shorter than the stipulated ones, probably at a cost.

Depositories also provide SMS Alert facility for demat account holders whereby investors can receive alerts for debits (transfers) to their demat accounts and for credits in respect of corporate actions for IPO and offer for sale. Under this facility, investors can receive alerts, a day after such debits (transfers)/credits take place. These alerts are sent to those account holders who have provided their mobile numbers to their DPs.

66. At what frequency will the investor receive his transaction and holding statement from his DP?

DPs have to provide transaction statements to their clients once in a month, if there is any transaction. DP s have to provide the transaction statements / holding statement to the BO s in other cases as per the table given below-

DPs also provide transaction statement in electronic form under digital signature subject to their entering into a legally enforceable arrangement with the BOs to this effect.

Type of BO account	Frequency of Transaction statement / Holding statement sent to BO
Accounts with zero balance and nil transactions during the year	- No Transaction statement. - One physical statement of holding annually. (DP shall resume sending the transaction statement as and when there is a transaction in the account)
Accounts which become zero balance during the year	- No transaction statement for the duration when the balance remains nil - An annual statement of holding
Accounts with credit balance but no transactions during the year	- No transaction statement - One statement of holding for the year

67. What is to be done if there are any discrepancies in transaction statement?

In case of any discrepancy in the transaction statement, BO can contact his DP. If the discrepancy cannot be resolved at the DP level, BO should approach the Depository.

68. Whom should BO contact in case of any investor complaint / problem / query?

In case of any investor complaint / problem / query one may first contact his DP. If DP is unable to solve the complaint / problem / query one should approach concerned depository. If one is not satisfied one may approach SEBI. One may also approach SEBI directly through SEBI Complaints Redress System (SCORES).

SCORES is a web based centralized grievance redress system of SEBI. SCORES enables investors to lodge and follow up their complaints and track the status of redressal of such complaints online from the above website from anywhere. To register a complaint online on SCORES portal, (<http://scores.gov.in>) click on "Complaint Registration" under "Investor Corner" then fill up the mandatory details and submit your complaint.

Nomination

69. Who can nominate?

Nomination can be made only by individuals holding beneficial accounts either singly or jointly. Non-individuals including society, trust, body corporate, Karta of HUF, holder of POA cannot nominate.

70. Who can be a nominee?

Only an individual / natural person can be a nominee. A nominee shall not be an artificial person created/dressed by the law or by a fiction such as body corporate, companies, partnership firm, society, trust, Hindu Undivided Family, etc

71. Why is it important to nominate?

Nomination is helpful in smooth transmission of shares upon the death of the BO/s. The nomination once made can be changed at a later date as desired by the BO/s.

Transmission of dematerialised securities

72. What is transmission of dematerialised securities?

Transmission is the process by which securities of a deceased account holder are transferred to the account of his legal heirs / nominee. Process of transmission in case of dematerialised holdings is more convenient as the transmission formalities for all securities held in a demat account can be completed by submitting documents to the DP, whereas in case of physical securities the legal heirs/nominee/surviving joint holder has to independently correspond with each company in which securities are held.

73. In the event of death of the sole holder, how the successors should claim the securities lying in the demat account?

The claimant should submit to the concerned DP an application i.e. Transmission Request Form (TRF) along with the following supporting documents -

1. In case of death of sole holder; where the sole holder has appointed a nominee
 - Notarised copy of the death certificate
2. In case of death of the sole holder; where the sole holder has not appointed a nominee
 - Notarised copy of the death certificate

And any one of the below mentioned documents,

- Succession certificate
- Copy of probated will
- Letter of Administration

The DP, after ensuring that the application is genuine, will transfer securities to the account of the claimant.

The major advantage in case of dematerialised holdings is that the transmission formalities for all securities held with a DP can be completed by interaction with the DP alone, unlike in the case of physical share certificates, where the claimant will have to interact with each issuing company or its registrar separately.

74. If a BO holds an account with NSDL/CDSL, can he receive securities from an account in CDSL/NSDL?

Yes. Inter depository transfers are possible without any additional costs.

Basic Services Demat Account

75. What is BSDA?

Basic Services Demat Account (BSDA) is provided by DP s with effect from October 1, 2012 with limited services to achieve wider financial inclusion, encourage holding of demat accounts and reduce the cost of maintaining securities in demat accounts for retail individual investors.

76. Who is eligible to open of BSDA?

- a. All the individuals who have or propose to have only one demat account where they are the sole or first holder.
- b. Individuals having any other demat account/s where they are not the first holder shall be eligible for BSDA in respect of the single demat account where they are sole or first holder.
- c. The individual shall have only one BSDA in his/her name across all depositories.
- d. Value of securities held in the demat account shall not exceed Rs. two lakhs at any point of time.

The DP s shall reassess the eligibility of the BO s at the end of every billing cycle and give option to the BOs who are eligible to opt for BSDA

77. Can an existing account holder open a BSDA?

Yes. All existing eligible individuals can convert their demat account into BSDA on the date of the next billing cycle based on the value of holding of securities in the account as on the last day of previous billing cycle.

The DPs shall reassess the eligibility of the BO s at the end of every billing cycle and give option to the BOs who are eligible to opt for BSDA.

78. What are the charges applicable to the BSDA?

The charge structure may be on a slab basis as indicated below,

- a. No Annual Maintenance Charges (AMC), if the value of holding is up to Rs.50,000.
- b. AMC not exceeding Rs 100 if the value of holding is Rs 50,001 to Rs 200,000,

Charges for statements,

- i. Electronic statements shall be provided free of cost.
